Summary

This Practice uses its website to gather necessary data in order to process the user's requests, such as patient registration and test report / prescription requests. All of the data that is submitted on this website is sent directly to owner of the website. The website provider will not use any of your data for their own benefit.

This site also uses cookies which are small text files that are placed on your machine to help the site provide a better user experience. The cookies we use are to record your options for your visit and future visits. They are designed to expire and do not record any personally identifiable information.

In general, cookies are used to retain user preferences, store information, and provide anonymised tracking data to third party applications like Google Analytics. As a rule, cookies will make your browsing experience better. However, you may prefer to disable cookies on this site and on others. The most effective way to do this is to disable cookies in your browser.

We suggest consulting the Help section of your browser or taking a look at the About Cookies website which offers guidance for all modern browsers.

You have the right to object to your identifiable information being used or shared for this purpose. Please speak to the Practice if you no longer wish to have your data used or be contacted by the Practice in future.
